

Revelation received through the interpreter stones, under the call of the Lord, to be revealed to His Servant, Maurício Artur Berger, on the night of March 24-25, 2022 in Palhoça, Santa Catarina, Brazil, in order to be delivered at the April conference, in printed pamphlet form, to all members of the Church of Christ.

Verily, thus saith the Lord:

1 Why do some of you persist in supplanting the counsel of my prophet?

2 Are your hearts not satisfied with my directives and with whom I, Jesus Christ, have appointed to be at the head of my vineyard?

3 For what reason do you not obey Me, the Lord, when through him, I give you to know my will for the salvation of your own souls?

4 Woe to you, Pharisees, hypocrites, who among my people hide themselves under the priestly robe and their respective callings, inasmuch they do not tolerate the zeal of my chosen servant in my Father's vineyard, hiding their vicissitudes among themselves, hindering the work of my steward in my house, while hindering the progress of my work among the children of men.

5 Until when will I have to deal with you and your attitude of refusing to heed the command of my chosen servant?

6 Awake, for, to this fact that I reveal to you now, before it is too late.

7 Otherwise, if you do not change your dealings with my anointed, this refusal will become your lamentation when my Father's judgments are poured out on all the inhabited Earth.

8 For, what you do to him, only to Me, the Lord, will you be doing.

9 Beware, therefore, of the judgments that rise up against him in your hearts, making your devotion to me, the Lord, however full, out of harmony with my will.

10 Return to me the Lord, while there is time, before it is too late.

11 For your present faith, though authentic, contrasts with your striving to fulfill my requirements in my vineyard, for many of you, not all, as occurred with my people in the early days of the restoration, have treated the Sealed Book lightly, and the revelations that come to you through my servant, Maurício, equaling yourselves to what today yourselves are judging and condemning among Latter-day Saints as a whole — Who have become only formal worshipers, who approach me with the mouth and with their lips they honor me by preaching my gospel with exclusive devotion, yet their hearts are far from attending to my statutes.

12 Therefore, it is in your midst that I, The Lord, will do a marvelous work and a wonder, inasmuch as I am extending the hand for the second time to rescue my church, which is you, the remnant people of the restoration, and take away the obscurity and darkness that you carry in your own minds and hearts.

13 For behold I, the Lord will show to the children of men that soon the Lebanon, which figuratively represents all of those who have been rejected until now and excluded by my people, will convert into a fertile field, and you, who are the elected class in these last days, in unity of spirit, respect and love those that I, The Lord am causing to sprout into your midst, will be appreciated by the nations as a forest of protection from the scorching heat, which symbol of the oppression that these my children, who that for such a long time were excluded and rejected, suffered under the sun of incomprehension.

14 For as surely as I live, you, who claim that are my people in these last days, will see that the great will be brought to nothing and the scoffer consumed by their own pride and vanity, and all of who practice iniquity in their hearts, through their precepts and prejudices, they will be uprooted by Me from my vineyard, because every branch of the vine, which in Me, Jesus Christ, does not bear fruits, will be thrown out and trampled underfoot by the nations.

15 For, what seems to you this ancient parable in modern dresses? There was a man who had two children, a legitimate heir and another by adoption. Arriving at the first, he said: Son, I need you to go work today in the vineyard and he promptly replied yes, but being in the midst of the harvest of the last days, he did not present himself to fulfill the will of the father in the manner required by Him.

16 The father then came to the other son, the one who had been adopted, and said the same thing, and he replied: No, for my brother does not think me worthy and qualified to perform tasks of such responsibility in his vineyard, O father. But as soon as he changed his mind, and with the consent of his father, he went and did an excellent work in his vineyard, and in the manner required by Him.

17 Which of these seems to you to have truly done the will of the Father?

18 I tell you the truth: the rejected and excluded are entering the Kingdom of God ahead of you. For my servant Maurício, under the prophetic mantle of my servant Joseph, came to show them the way of righteousness, which for generations, since the opening of the fullness of times, is being set before my people, and yet, few are those who believed in him, but the rejects and excluded will believe. And, even after seeing this, you will still show resistance to repenting and believing in him.

19 In turn, those sons and daughters of mine, heirs of my kingdom by adoption, who for so long have been excluded from my vineyard by their brethren finding them unworthy and unqualified to perform such responsible tasks in my vineyard, though they still have some reluctance to participate in the great harvest of the last days, they will soon change their minds and under the consent of my Father, they will do an excellent work in my vineyard and in the manner required by Him.

20 Know, therefore, ye, who are the people of this second invitation, that it is by my grace and my great condescension unto the children of men that you have gradually received an understanding of all things through the one whom I have appointed to receive revelation in these last days, a little here, another as much there.

21 And behold, that none shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church, save my servant Maurício, who, being under the prophetic mantle of my servant Joseph Smith Jr, receives it as Moses did. For I have given to him the keys of the mysteries and the revelations which are sealed, until I, the Lord, appoint another in his place.

22 And through that, you will know for sure that there is no one else appointed to receive commandments and revelations for you—until he is taken away.

23 Therefore, I say to you, oh little flock, do not try to give advices to my servant, wrapped in precepts and prejudices that have been impregnated in you through the attempts of men who never understood the essence of my gospel, inasmuch as my chosen servant understands all things, but yea, receive counsels from God himself through him whom I have called and appointed to reveal my will to you in these last days.

24 Behold, I am Jesus Christ. And behold that, once I announce to you through my prophet on earth, that as soon as the signs beforehand I revealed to you will be appeased, there will be great tribulation, such as has not occurred since the beginning of the world until now, in which the sun will be darkened and the moon will no longer reflect its light, and the stars of the firmament will fall, and the powers of heaven will be shaken, never to return, and however, if my people do not heed this last call of mine, that of erecting the United Order among you, such as Noah's Ark to safeguard you in the last days, establishing among you the places of refuge of Zion, then the innocent will undergo through the same abuses and sufferings of which the wicked and guilty are destined to pass through, and, however, I will not allow anything to prosper among you, for from the beginning of this second invitation, I the Lord have required but one thing from this chosen remnant, that they erect the United Order, and with it, the places of refuge of Zion. When you begin to do this, you will have my approval and blessing to progress as a people.

25 Firstly, you must choose land to undertake in agribusiness, as I revealed to you before, in order to generate wealth to my people. And however, if at this opportune time you do not learn to store food, to dam and purify water, to accumulate survival resources and obtain enough for everyone, then, neither your silver nor will your gold be able to rescue you in the day of the foretold calamity by the mouth of all my prophets, and the little that every man and woman among my people retains for himself, of the tithe which I the Lord require you to return to the Bishop's storehouse in the stakes of Zion, nothing won't be of any use in the day when my fury sweeps over all nations, because you were not faithful to comply with the most important law among all of my commandments — the law of tithing.

26 And proceeding all things that are occurring as signs before you, as alerts to this opportune moment that you still have today, will it not impel you to prepare yourselves, to make you as a qualified and structured people for the great tribulation that is quickly approaching?

27 — Remember, if you are prepared, you will not fear when the desolation comes and surrounds Jerusalem.

Amen.
